

version 1.1 This course outline is subject to revision.

Creativity ENIN 240/3.0 • Summer 2026

The Dan School of Drama and Music • Queen's University

Instructor: Sidneyeve Matrix • matrixs@queensu.ca

Land Acknowledgement

Queen's University is situated on the territory of the Haudenosaunee and Anishinaabek.

Ne Queen's University e'tho nón:we nikanónhsote tsi nón:we ne
Haudenosaunee táhnon Anishinaabek tehatihsnonhsáhere ne onhwéntsya.
Gimaakwe Gchi-gkinoomaagegamig atemagad Naadowe miinwaa
Anishinaabe aking

Equity, Diversity, and Inclusivity Statement

Queen's University recognizes that the values of equity and diversity are vital to and in harmony with its educational mission and standards of excellence. It acknowledges that direct, indirect, and systemic discrimination exists within our institutional structures, policies, and practices and in our community. These take many forms and work to differentially advantage and disadvantage persons across social identities such as race, ethnicity, disability, gender identity, sexual orientation, faith, and socioeconomic status, among other examples. In this class I will work to promote an anti-discriminatory, anti-racist and accountable environment where everyone feels welcome. Every member of this class is asked to show respect for every other member.

Building a Classroom Community

University is a place to share, question, and challenge ideas. Each student brings a different set of lived experiences. You can help to create a safer, more respectful classroom community for learners by following these guidelines:

- Make a personal commitment to learn about, understand, and support your peers.

- Assume the best of others and expect the best of them.
- Recognize and value the experiences, abilities, and knowledge each person brings to the course.
- Acknowledge the impact of oppression on other people's lives and make sure your words and tone are respectful and inclusive.
- Encourage others to develop and share their ideas.
- Pay close attention to what your peers say/write before you respond. Think through and re-read what you have written before you post online or send your comments to others.
- Be open to having your ideas challenged and challenge others with the intent of facilitating growth.
- Look for opportunities to agree with one another, building on and intentionally referencing peers' thoughts and ideas; disagree with ideas without making personal attacks, demeaning, or embarrassing others.

Fostering Accessibility

All of us have a shared responsibility for fostering accessibility and promoting meaningful inclusion of those with disabilities. The Accessibility Hub at Queen's University's Human Rights & Equity Office offer a host of tutorials that provide us all with practical tips for:

- creating accessible documents, e.g., to submit to your teaching team or share with peers in peer feedback activities/in a presentation,
- emails, e.g., while communicating with group members or your teaching team, and
- meeting practices (e.g., in tutorials/labs/seminars or virtual meetings).

Name/Pronoun

If, for whatever reason, you wish to change how your name appears in onQ and/or on class lists, please follow these steps. You may also use this process to add your pronouns to the appearance of your name.

1. Log into SOLUS.
2. Click on Personal Information tab.
3. Click on the Names tab
4. Click on the Add New Name tab
5. Choose Preferred from the Name Type drop down menu

6. Enter the name you would like to appear in onQ and/or on class lists.
7. Click Save.

Please allow 24 to 48 hours for your name to be registered within the system. If you have further questions or concerns, please contact ITS at Queen's University.

Communication: Queen's Email

The university communicates with students via Queen's email. Please check your email regularly to ensure you do not miss important information related to your course.

Course Description

This second-year course is designed to give you an opportunity to practice and improve your communication, creative thinking skills, and problem-solving techniques. It offers an introduction to foundational concepts of creativity as a creative process, mindset, and research method. You can expect to spend approximately 120 hours per term in study / practice and online activity for this course.

Course Materials & Technologies

- Required Course Textbooks (none)
- Other Required Materials (all readings, videos, podcasts are linked on OnQ)

Course Design

The course is delivered online over 6 weeks in the summer term. Each module is composed of a bundle of thematic readings, lecture videos, and/or podcasts. This course is not self-paced — modules are published weekly. This is an online course, there are no office hours, but the professor will answer your questions via email (between Monday-Friday, 9am-5pm ET, and expect a 1-2 day turnaround).

Intended Student Learning Outcomes

Understand Creativity Theories and Models: Students will explore various theories and models of creativity, understanding their historical context and application in different fields of study.

Develop Observational and Research Skills: Students will learn to observe and analyze creative processes, conducting qualitative research to understand how creativity manifests in different environments.

Enhance Critical Thinking and Innovative Problem-Solving Skills: Students will apply critical and creative thinking skills to identify and solve complex problems, using innovative approaches that challenge conventional perspectives.

Experiment with Creative Practices: Students will engage in hands-on creative experiments, learning to use diverse techniques and tools to produce original and imaginative outcomes.

Reflect on Feedback and Iterative Improvement: Students will develop the ability to critically assess their own creative work and that of others, using feedback to iteratively improve their creative outputs.

Collaborative Creativity: Students will participate in collaborative projects that simulate real-world creative teamwork, learning to integrate diverse ideas and approaches to enhance creative outcomes.

Course Schedule

- Module 01 "Introduction" 04–08 May
- Module 02 "Creative Places" 11–15 May
- Module 03 "Creative People" 19–22 May
- Creativity Research Group Assignment 01 due 25 May 8 PM ET
- Midterm Quiz 01 open online 25 May between 8am–8pm ET. Covers Modules 01/02/03 lectures/required readings/videos/podcasts (early bird seating available on 24 May between 8am–8pm ET if you prefer)
- Module 04 "Creative Process" 25 May – 29 May
- Module 05 "Creative Products" 01 – 05 June
- Module 06 "Conclusion" 08 – 12 June

- Creativity Research Group Assignment 02 due 15 June by 8 PM ET
- Final Quiz 02 open online 15 June between 8am–8pm ET. Covers Modules 04/05/06 lectures/required readings/videos/podcasts (early bird seating available on 14 June between 8am–8pm ET if you prefer)

Course Assignments

Your final grade is based on your performance on two online quiz assignments composed of true/false and multiple-choice questions covering concepts from readings and lectures, and two creative research group assignments. In order to receive a passing grade in this course, all four assignments must be completed. Detailed descriptions of assignment requirements will be distributed via OnQ.

- Group Assignment 01 “Creative Places and People” (45%)
Deliverables include a research report applying course material and combining primary and secondary data, plus research visualizations.
- Group Assignment 02 “Creative Products and Processes” (45%)
Deliverables include a research report applying course material and combining primary and secondary data, plus research visualizations.
- Quiz 01 Assignment Midterm (5%)
- Quiz 02 Assignment Final (5%)

Your Creativity Research group assignments are graded on both style (for example: layout, legibility, accessibility, consistency, cohesion) and substance (for example: original ideas, thorough analysis, application of course concepts, overall completeness, depth of insight, creativity, level of detail, writing mechanics, evidence of research and course materials integration).

Unofficial grades are posted to OnQ. In this course, some assignments will be graded using numerical percentage marks (quizzes). Other assignments will receive letter grades (group assignments), which for purposes of calculating your course average, will be translated into numerical equivalents using the Faculty of Arts and Science approved scale (see below). Your course average will then be converted to a final letter grade according to Queen's Official Grade Conversion Scale (see below). All group members receive the same grade on the group assignments.

Every assignment has a due date. Students are expected to submit assignments to the associated OnQ Dropbox on or before the assigned due date. Work submitted by the due date, as evidenced by the OnQ Dropbox date/time stamp, will be considered on time and will receive full credit. Late assignments are accepted up to four days after the due date, and they will be penalized 10% of the total possible grade per day (or part thereof, with weekends counted as 2 days). Submissions that are 4+ days late will automatically receive a failing grade (F/0-48) and will not receive comments or feedback. In order to earn a passing grade in this course, all 4 assignments must be completed (2 group assignments and 2 quiz assignments).

To build in flexibility and promote accessibility and inclusion for all students, this course has been designed with built-in grace periods where possible:

- Group Assignments: The Group Assignments have a built-in three-day grace period, which aligns with the Faculty of Arts and Science's policy for Academic Considerations. They are designed with UDL in mind. If you have extenuating circumstances when a submission is due, and these circumstances will last up to three (3) days, you can use the grace period without applying for formal Academic Considerations through the Portal. The grace period is automatically applied to papers submitted up to three (3) days late. However, if your circumstances will last more than three (3) days and you have documentation, please use the Academic Considerations Portal.
- Quizzes: Quizzes do NOT have built-in grace periods. This is because of the interactive nature of the discussions and academic integrity issues associated with quizzing. Thus, students are asked to use the Academic Considerations Portal when relevant for these assessments. Quizzes are designed with UDL in mind. Students may attempt each quiz only once.

Students with letters of accommodation should, if possible, confirm the implementation of their accommodations prior to the listed due date. Please see the “Accommodations for Disabilities” section of this syllabus for more information. Students experiencing short-term extenuating circumstances that are beyond their control and may affect their academic work should submit a request to their faculty office for academic consideration. Please see the “Academic Considerations for Students in Extenuating Circumstances” section of this syllabus for more details.

| Arts &amp; Science Letter Grade Input Scheme: Assignment Mark | Numerical Value for Calculation of Final Mark |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------|
| A+                                                                   | 93                                            |
| A                                                                    | 87                                            |
| A-                                                                   | 82                                            |
| B+                                                                   | 78                                            |
| B                                                                    | 75                                            |
| B-                                                                   | 72                                            |
| C+                                                                   | 68                                            |
| C                                                                    | 65                                            |
| C-                                                                   | 62                                            |
| D+                                                                   | 58                                            |
| D                                                                    | 55                                            |
| D-                                                                   | 52                                            |
| F+                                                                   | 48                                            |
| F                                                                    | 24                                            |

| Queen's Official GradeConversion Scale: Grade | Numerical Course Average (Range) |
|-----------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------|
| A+                                                        | 90-100                           |
| A                                                         | 85-89                            |
| A-                                                        | 80-84                            |
| B+                                                        | 77-79                            |
| B                                                         | 73-76                            |
| B-                                                        | 70-72                            |
| C+                                                        | 67-69                            |
| C                                                         | 63-66                            |
| C-                                                        | 60-62                            |
| D+                                                        | 57-59                            |
| D                                                         | 53-56                            |
| D-                                                        | 50-52                            |
| F                                                         | 49 and below                     |

General Rubric:

- A range grades (80+) indicate excellent to exceptional performance that exceeds the highest standards. The course content has been mastered, the work makes multiple meaningful applications of/ connections to course concepts (lecture slides/readings) and supplemental research. The ability to apply the course material in new ways has been demonstrated, and an understanding of the wider context is evident. All learning outcomes have been achieved, and to a degree that exceeds expectations (for research/design/course concept integration-application). Exceptional creativity, originality, and intellectual initiative is clearly apparent. No spelling or grammar issues. Consistent tone throughout. Evidence of successful collaboration. The submission is timely (in dropbox by the deadline) and follows all required formatting specifications (example: PDF instead of DOC or PPTX files).

- B range grades (70s) indicate good to very good performance that meets all basic expectations and objectives. The learning outcomes have been achieved, and there is a clear and comprehensive understanding of the key course concepts and techniques. Submission exceeds expectations on at least one but likely two of the assignment components (e.g. research/analysis/design/course concept integration-application). The work may fall short on research integration, course content application, annotation, analysis, or development of ideas. The work may have some minor spelling or writing mechanic issues.
- C range grades (60s) indicate an acceptable to satisfactory comprehension of the course material, and demonstrates a basic understanding of the assignment objectives. The work may be under-developed or insufficiently researched or exhibit a sub-optimal design (interfering with readability/accessibility). The work may contain several spelling or other mechanical errors.
- D range grades (50s) indicate a minimal passing performance. All learning objectives minimally met. Work is sufficient for credit to be granted. The submission demonstrates some comprehension of the course material, but it is incomplete or severely lacking in terms of research, design, self-reflection, analysis (and the like).
- F = Failure (0-48) incomplete submissions are still eligible to earn a grade up to 48.

Requests for assignment regrading may be made 48 hours after you have received the grade on your assignment, but no more than 4 days later. Be sure to read all feedback carefully before you submit a review of graded work request. To request that your assignment be reviewed, please include the following in your email:

- Your name, student number, and group number.
- The original copy of your marked assignment, attached.
- Your reason for the request:
  - The specific aspects of your assignment that you believe were not sufficiently awarded, referring to the categories of the rubric.
  - Why you believe that your assignment meets the criteria for a higher mark for each of the categories of the rubric that you indicated above. Please make explicit reference to the detailed descriptions of each category provided in the rubric.

If a review of graded work results in only a slightly different final grade, the original grade will stand. Should we find an error where marks were not assigned when they should have been or were missed in adding up the total score or were added up incorrectly resulting in a higher score than earned, the grade will be changed so that it is accurate. Grades would only increase or decrease if there was evidence of an error in marking, not simply because the regrader interprets or applies the rubric slightly differently than the original grader.

Queen's Policy Statement on Academic Integrity

Queen's University is dedicated to creating a scholarly community free to explore a range of ideas, to build and advance knowledge, and to share the ideas and knowledge that emerge from a range of intellectual pursuits. Queen's students, faculty, administrators and staff therefore all have responsibilities for supporting and upholding the fundamental values of academic integrity. Academic integrity is constituted by the five core fundamental values of honesty, trust, fairness, respect and responsibility and by the quality of courage. These values and qualities are central to the building, nurturing and sustaining of an academic community in which all members of the community will thrive. Adherence to the values expressed through academic integrity forms a foundation for the "freedom of inquiry and exchange of ideas" essential to the intellectual life of the University. The following statements from "The Fundamental Values of Academic Integrity" (2nd edition), developed by the International Center for Academic Integrity (ICAI), contextualize these values and qualities:

1. Honesty Academic communities of integrity advance the quest for truth and knowledge through intellectual and personal honesty in learning, teaching, research, and service.
2. Trust Academic communities of integrity both foster and rely upon climates of mutual trust. Climates of trust encourage and support the free exchange of ideas which in turn allows scholarly inquiry to reach its fullest potential.
3. Fairness Academic communities of integrity establish clear and transparent expectations, standards, and practices to support fairness in the interactions of students, faculty, and administrators.

4. Respect Academic communities of integrity value the interactive, cooperative, participatory nature of learning. They honor, value, and consider diverse opinions and ideas.

5. Responsibility Academic communities of integrity rest upon foundations of personal accountability coupled with the willingness of individuals and groups to lead by example, uphold mutually agreed-upon standards, and take action when they encounter wrongdoing.

6. Courage To develop and sustain communities of integrity, it takes more than simply believing in the fundamental values. Translating the values from talking points into action -- standing up for them in the face of pressure and adversity -- requires determination, commitment, and courage.

Students are responsible for familiarizing themselves with and adhering to the Senate regulations concerning academic integrity, along with Faculty or School specific information. Departures from academic integrity include, but are not limited to, plagiarism, use of unauthorized materials, facilitation, forgery and falsification. Actions which contravene the regulation on academic integrity carry sanctions that can range from a warning, to loss of grades on an assignment, to failure of a course, to requirement to withdraw from the university.

Generative Artificial Intelligence (AI) Tools

Using generative AI writing tools such as ChatGPT in your submitted work is not permitted in this class. This type of use constitutes a Departure from Academic Integrity. Original work, completed wholly by you, is expected to be submitted in this course. Queen's Student Academic Success Services (SASS) offers a self-directed, online academic integrity module which we encourage all students to take which will help with:

- · Understanding the nature of the academic integrity departure
- · Understanding the expectations of and role of sources in scholarly writing
- · Integrating sources into your writing (paraphrasing, quoting, summarizing)

- · Understanding when and how to cite your sources
- · Managing your time effectively to avoid the need for shortcuts
- · Taking effective notes to ensure accuracy of source material and correct attribution

Academic Support

All undergraduate students face new learning and writing challenges as they progress through university: essays and reports become more complex; effectively incorporating research into writing becomes more important; the types of assignments become more diverse; managing your time and developing the skills you need to read and think critically gets more challenging.

I encourage students to contact Student Academic Success Services (SASS). SASS offers many different ways to receive support:

- Free online or in-person appointments to get personalized support on writing and academic skills from expert staff and trained peers.
- Workshops and drop-in programs.
- Online resources that provide strategies for academic skills and writing development at university.
- If English is not your first language, SASS has specific resources for English as Additional Language students, including weekly programs and EAL academic skills appointments. You can meet on an ongoing basis with an EAL consultant to work on your academic writing, speaking, listening, and reading skills.

Accommodations for Disabilities

Queen's University is committed to working with students with disabilities to remove barriers to their academic goals. Queen's Student Accessibility Services (QSAS), students with disabilities, instructors, and faculty staff work together to provide and implement academic accommodations designed to allow students with disabilities equitable access to all course material (including in-class as well as exams). If you are a student currently experiencing barriers to your academics due to disability related reasons, and you would like to understand whether academic accommodations could support the removal of those barriers, please visit the QSAS website to learn more about academic accommodations or start the registration process with QSAS by clicking Access Ventus button at Ventus | Accessibility Services | Queen's (queensu.ca) VENTUS is an online portal that connects students, instructors, Queen's Student Accessibility Services, the Exam's Office and other support services in the process to request, assess, and implement academic accommodations. To learn more go to:

<https://www.queensu.ca/ventus-support/students/visual-guide-ventus-students>

Academic Consideration for Students in Extenuating Circumstances

Academic Consideration is a process for the University community to provide a compassionate response to assist students experiencing unforeseen, short-term extenuating circumstances that may impact or impede a student's ability to complete their academics. This may include but is not limited to,

- Short term Physical or Mental Illness or Injury (stomach flu, anxiety/depression, mononucleosis, concussion, broken bones, surgery, medical treatments, etc.)
- Traumatic Event/Confidential (Bereavement, serious injury, illness or required treatment for a significant other/family member or a traumatic event such as divorce, sexual assault, social injustice, etc.)
- Requirements by Law or Public Health Authorities (court dates, jury duty, requirements to isolate, etc.)
- Significant Event (varsity athletic event, distinguished event, serving in the Reserve Forces, etc.)

Queen's University is committed to providing academic consideration to students experiencing extenuating circumstances. For more information, please see the Senate Policy on Academic Consideration for Students in Extenuating Circumstances. Each Faculty has developed a protocol to provide a consistent and equitable approach in dealing with requests for academic consideration for students facing extenuating circumstances. For more information, undergraduate students in the Faculty of Arts and Sciences should consult the Faculty's webpage on Academic Consideration in Extenuating Circumstances and submit a request via the Academic Consideration Request Portal. Students in other Faculties and Schools who are enrolled in this course should refer to the protocol for their home Faculty.

Students are encouraged to submit requests as soon as the need becomes apparent and to contact their instructor and/or course coordinator as soon as possible once academic consideration has been granted. Any delay in contact may limit the options available for academic consideration.

For more information on the Academic Consideration process, what is and is not an extenuating circumstance, and to submit an Academic Consideration request, please see the Faculty of Arts and Science's Academic Consideration website. ASO courses include links to information on Academic Consideration on your Course Homepage in onQ.

Technology Requirements

Students must have access to reliable high speed internet, and use of a personal computer for the duration of the course. For students traveling overseas during the term, note that there have been past instances where access to web sites required to complete the course (e.g. OnQ, Vimeo, news sites, cloud design tools, web blogs, YouTube), has been blocked intermittently in some countries. Using a VPN may be an impediment to successfully completing course requirements on deadline. Queen's Faculty of Arts & Science does not make course accommodations based on lack of reliable computer or Internet access. It is each students' responsibility to ensure access to adequate computer and web access for the entirety of the term.

Educational Technologies, Help, Privacy, and Accessibility

This course makes use of the following website(s), program(s), and/or application(s) for specific educational use/purposes.

- Zoom
- Turnitin
- OnQ
- YouTube
- Soundcloud
- Google

Privacy: Be aware that your independent use of the website(s), programs, and/or application(s) used in this course, beyond what is required, is subject to their terms of use and privacy policy. You are encouraged to review the applicable privacy statements before using the site(s). Accessibility: Queen's University is committed to developing courses that are accessible. For further information on accessibility compliance of the website(s), program(s) application(s) used in the course, please consult the links below.

Copyright of Course Material

Course materials created by the course instructor, including all slides, presentations, handouts, tests, exams, and other similar course materials, are the intellectual property of the instructor. It is a departure from academic integrity to distribute, publicly post, sell or otherwise disseminate an instructor's course materials or to provide an instructor's course materials to anyone else for distribution, posting, sale or other means of dissemination, without the instructor's express consent. A student who engages in such conduct may be subject to penalty for a departure from academic integrity and may also face adverse legal consequences for infringement of intellectual property rights.

Turnitin Statement

This course makes use of Turnitin, a third-party application that helps maintain standards of excellence in academic integrity. Normally, students will be required to submit their course assignments through onQ to Turnitin. In doing so, students' work will be included as source documents in the Turnitin reference database, where they will be used solely for the purpose of detecting plagiarized text in this course. Data from submissions is also collected and analyzed by Turnitin for detecting Artificial Intelligence (AI)-generated text. These results are not reported to your instructor at this time but could be in the future. Turnitin is a suite of tools that provide instructors with information about the authenticity of submitted work and facilitates the process of grading. The similarity report generated after an assignment file is submitted produces a similarity score for each assignment. A similarity score is the percentage of writing that is similar to content found on the internet or the Turnitin extensive database of content. Turnitin does not determine if an instance of plagiarism has occurred. Instead, it gives instructors the information they need to determine the authenticity of work as a part of a larger process. Please read Turnitin's Privacy Policy, Acceptable Use Policy and End-User License Agreement, which govern users' relationship with Turnitin. Also, please note that Turnitin uses cookies and other tracking technologies; however, in its service contract with Queen's Turnitin has agreed that neither Turnitin nor its third-party partners will use data collected through cookies or other tracking technologies for marketing or advertising purposes. For further information about how you can exercise control over cookies, see Turnitin's Privacy Policy. Turnitin may provide other services that are not connected to the purpose for which Queen's University has engaged Turnitin. Your independent use of Turnitin's other services is subject solely to Turnitin's Terms of Service and Privacy Policy, and Queen's University has no liability for any independent interaction you choose to have with Turnitin. Portions of this document have been adapted, with permission, from the University of Toronto Centre for Teaching Support and Innovation tip sheet "Turnitin: An Electronic Resource to Deter Plagiarism".